Effective Decorations for the Occasion at the Executive Mansion.

WASHINGTON, May 20 .- A day perfect in every respect greeted the Spanish royal party this morning. The Princess Eulalia enjoyed a good night's rest, and at 7.30, according to the Spanish cus-tum, before leaving her bed had cup of chocolate and biscuit. At 9.50 the got up and began to prepare for cleveland, until which time she was not submitted to the gaze of the curious crowd

The r'rince was the first to emerge from the doorway, and got into the carriage unus sisted, the Spanish Minister accompanying him. The Minister stepped aside to permit the Princess, who was on the arm of Com-mander Davis, to enter the carriage. The Minister and Commander entered the same carriage.

In the second carriage rode the Marchioness, the Duke and Senor Don Pedre.
The Princess was simply but richly attired. She wore a princess dress of gray bengalite. She wore a princess dress of gray bengalite. She wore a round the train with gray ostrich feathers.

A pink satin girdle completed this exquisite toilet. Her bonnet was a small affair of light flowers with pink satin ribbons tied under the chin, and a short white net veil over her face. In her hand she carried a beautiful parasol of chiffon and lace.

As soon as the carriages started towards the White House the crowd broke and ran through the park in that direction to witness the arrival of the distinguished party. A running crowd of well-dressed women and small boys heralded the approach of the liniants and her party to the White House.

When the carriage came to a standstill under the broad, high portico, Commander Davis all hted first, tollowed by the Spanish Minister and Prince Antoine. The Prince in answer to an inquiry from the liminta-offered her his arm, and excerted her through the main doorway into the corridor of the private part of the mansion. The liuke, the Marcujoness and the private secretary to the Princess followed.

Along the walls of the corridor there were tall growing paims and taller o canders, with rose bushes and other flowering plants interspersed between the spaces. The doors of variegated colored class separating the corridor from the public lobby allowed the entrance of a light as sait and beautiful as that Trance of a light as Solt and beautifel as that of a cathedral. In the Blue Room, which is oval in snape, the floral decorations were of the same character as those in the corrilor, except that the tail mirrors formed an effective background for the plants banked on the mantel. The centre divan was crowned by several pots of blooming rhedodendrons, showballs, geranium and other brillish thued flowers. In the Blue Room the President and Mrs. Cleveland stood ready to receive their visitors. Senor Muruaga, the Span at Minister, presented the royal party.

Commander Davis, the Duke of Ta naines, the Manchioness of Ario Hermoso and Schor Don Ytovar withdrew to the adjoining Red Hoom. The greetings between those in the Blue

The greetings between those in the Blue Room were very pleasant, and had hardly a linge of formality about them. They were over in a minute or two, and then the others were summoned and presented in turn by senor Muruagus.

Mrs. cleveland and the Infanta chatted briskly in English duving part of the brief visit, while at times the conversation was general. At 11.15 the Infanta made her addeux, followed by the others. As she walked across the lobby a woman in the crowd waved her handkerchief and called out in Spanish, "Greeting to the infanta of spanish, "Greeting to the infanta of
